Hello,

I wanted to take a moment to express my support for the new parking regulations being considered. I've lived in the Volker neighborhood for more than a decade and love how it provides a great mix of walkability, small businesses, and amenities like parks. I really believe the neighborhood would look much different if the current parking requirements had existed when 39th Street was first developed. Removing these unnecessary parking minimums is the first step to ensuring other places in KC have the opportunity to develop into places for the next generation of residents to discover and fall in love with. There are a lot of things that KC could use – more parking is not one of them. I urge you to adopt these proposed changes that will allow for more flexibility in development.

Thank you,
Arielle Zarr
