Executive Summary

Vacating excess City right-of-way in Jackson County, Missouri, originally acquired for the construction of the Broadway-West Pennway Viaduct, while retaining an inspection and maintenance easement; and directing the City Clerk to record the ordinance with the Jackson County Recorder of Deeds.

Discussion

In 1987, the City acquired right-of-way within the South Side Place and Ellison & Murdock's Addition subdivisions for the construction of the Broadway-West Pennway Viaduct and its approach roadways. Following completion of the viaduct project, a portion of this right-of-way remained that is no longer necessary for public use.

The Department of Public Works has reviewed the subject property and determined that this right-of-way is excess to the City's needs, with no future plans for improvement or use as public right-of-way. The ordinance authorizes the vacation of approximately 18,328.2 square feet (0.42 acres) of right-of-way.
