*The Lewer proposal will put more on-street parking demands on the street, on all four sides of this full block sized development. If these 296 parking spaces were eliminated, then 6,512 lineal feet of parallel parking spaces would be needed, which we don't have.

Reduction in number of units, but increased size of units to more 2-bedroom units instead of all 1 bedroom and studio units. Two-bedroom units would likely increase the demand for on-street parking.

As illustrated by the Mirabelle Phase 2, changes that are considered "minor amendments" including changes to parking ratio in a development plan can be unilaterally implemented by City staff only without public engagement whatsoever, to the detriment of the surrounding residential community.

Impact from already constructed 4400 Washington: This complex had 188 units constructed with one parking space per bedroom, studios included, and with 20 visitor parking spots. The complex has still put parking pressure on the Plaza Westport neighborhood. It is not only residents compete for parking in the neighborhood, but also guests who come to visit, including using the pool. Photos of that parking pressure shared. The photos are "off season" mid-morning of a weekday, and don't reflect a summer weekend.
